Chairman for the social committee for 1946-47 and committee heads for the pep, homecoming, convocation, rules and union committees for that year were chosen by the executive committee Tuesday evening.

John Felker was elected social chairman to be in charge of all social events at Lawrence for the coming year. He will choose, with the approval of the executive committee, five people to head sub-committees to arrange for orchestras, decorations, refreshments, publicity, and chaperones.

With the forming of this new committee the executive committee hopes to increase the efficiency with which school affairs will be publicized.

Pi Phis Win Athletic Plate At Banquet

Highlighting the sports banquet last Tuesday night at Brokaw Hall was the presentation of the plaque given to the senior girl for being the most outstanding all-around athlete and showing good sportsmanship. This year two girls were recognized for this honor. Pat Wheeler and Mary Ann Hammersley.

The grand award, the inter-society plate, went to Pi Beta Phi, which earned the greatest number of points in sports during the year.

Among the other awards, given were the sorority trophies. The Delta Gamma, Pi Phi and Theta tied for first place in volleyball. The basketball trophy was given to the Pi Phi and Theta who tied for first place. The baseball plaque was won by the Theta.

Class numerals were given to Shirley Buesing, Pat Geister, Nancy Johnson, Jo Meier, Marty Ritter, and Jean Van Hengel. Varsity class letters were also presented. The girls who earned their letter sweaters for being on class and varsity teams were: Shirley Buesing, Mary Haugen, Mary Ann Hammersley, Nancy Johnson, Mary Winston and Pat Wheeler.

Last but not least was the presentation of a cup to the class with the highest number of points. This year the freshman won by a landslide. The program closed with movies on golf and swimming.

Interest and Planning Needed by Committees

The executive committee seems to have made wise selections for next year's committee heads. The method of selecting the committee heads was well organized so that the committee had a fairly wide range of applicants to choose from, and could therefore choose a better qualified student. The success of the sub-committees will not depend on only the heads, however.

It is up to the students to get to know and to try to remember who the committee heads are and to make all complaints and comments on their work directly to them. The committee heads will welcome suggestions, and student awareness of who is responsible for the various phases of our campus life will ensure that the best efforts of the committee heads will be put forth.

There are great possibilities for constructive work on these committees. Good leaders can make this a progressive campus by laying new plans to follow next fall. There has been a tendency during the past few years for the heads to take a passive attitude toward their jobs and to only carry through the routine tasks of their predecessors. This can best be avoided by student pressure and also by the heads making plans before the fall term starts and the rush of campus activities carries the members along at too fast a rate to give them time to think out original plans.

Phi Delt Elect Officers; Thetas Initiate Two Coeds

By Lynn Larson

The Phi Delt program for next fall was put in motion with an election of officers last Monday night. The new officers are: Matt Pahle, secretary; Bob Nolan and Dave Harbert, co-social chairmen; Pete Rasey, rushing chairman; Bob Branch, recorder; Bill Newendorp, warden; Dick Flom, historian; and Wally Velte, chorister. Good luck to you, fellows.

The Thetas initiated Jean Derus and Gloria Birmingham recently. Congratulations, girls.

To swing to the social side of the calendar, this Saturday evening, May 25, the Delt will hold their annual "Bucket of Blood" party from eight until one with all of the girls attending having one o'clock hours. Arrangements for the affair are in the hands of social chairman, Fred Thatcher, and a committee made up of Richard Bergman, Gordon Butke, John Dyer, Norman Hoffleur, and Paul Dahlberg. Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of "Who Done It?" by the Delt Little Theater Players.

Thetas announce four new Delt pins. Jewel Verhulst who has John Dyer's, Mary Morkley who is pinned to Don Waterman, Bobbie Stappenbach took George Steeds pin, and Wednesday Jean Frisky joined the charmed circles when she became pinned to Forest Grady. Katey Benton Varied the routine when she took Jim Piette's Beta pin, and Lynn Slapley is now officially engaged to Paul Sullivan, former V-12 here. Not to be outdone, ADP Margie Schultz became possessor of Ed Krupa's Phi Tau pin last weekend.

Quite a few of the sororities are giving picnics and banquets in honor of their senior girls this week.

The Thetas had a picnic in their honor last Monday at Telulah Park. On Tuesday night the KDs had a similar picnic at Telulah Park at which the graduating seniors received gifts from the chapter. The DGs gave a senior banquet yesterday, May 23, at the Riverview Country Club for Nancy Bushnell and Mary Vinson.

A small group of Phi Delt's braved the weather last Sunday to carry on the annual trek to Waupaca. In spite of the weather, the spirit of the picnic wasn't a bit dampened.

Walter Chilsen and George VanderWeyden will represent the Delt in Chicago this summer for the annual meeting.

As a result of the contributions of A D Pi chapters throughout the country of their 1851 Memorial Fund, Angelina Condos, a student from Greece, is being sent to the United States to college this coming year. Last year a Chinese girl won the scholarship and is returning to China at the end of this year to do social work.

The Sig Eps entertained the DGs last Sunday at one of their open house parties.

Pat Dyer and Phoebe Walk were pledged to Alpha Delta Pi last Friday evening. Congratulations.

So They Say

If we can believe the congratulations and comments which have reached us, "Bringin' Spring In" was a successful venture. Its success was not achieved without many hours of effort on the part of the cast and crews, whom we would like to thank for their work in behalf of the show, and the gifts which they gave us.

Many production difficulties might not have been surmounted without the advice and encouragement of Mr. Watts, Miss Wollaefer, Mr. Voss, and all those of the faculty and administration who wanted to see an entertaining student show, enough to help us in putting it on.

We are aware of the fact that there is on this campus much talent which was not used in "Bringin' Spring In". For that reason, we are confident that, given the proper direction of someone with production initiative, Lawrence can and will see in subsequent semesters student shows of high quality and great success.

"Miss Nobody" Is Now in the News

Senior editors of the Daily Orange, student paper at Syracuse University (Syracuse, N. Y.) selected "Miss Nobody" from among those personally contacted by staff members and those who applied. According to University records, she is in no activities, but works in an office 30 hours a week.

After accepting a key to the campus, symbolic of the fact that she is one of the many who really are the basic factor of any university, "Miss Nobody" declined other opportunities offered her to be "Miss Somebody" for the day and retired to her accustomed routine of classes and work.

Students Vie For Title of Campus Drow

Women! Women! Women! Why are there so many of them? We have gals with sparkling personalities, gorgeous figures and faces, and then we have gals with calorie-counting figures, moth-ball personalities, and size 12 shoes. Since the latter type is in the majority on this campus it is only normal that a few lines be devoted to these sad-sacks.

Not only are they many in number but they are many in types. There's Sally Knobase who insists on taking a shower every night and drops her wet footprints all over the hall, upon which I never miss tripping as I am dashing madly to my room at 11:45 p. m. (Yep! I'm a frosh. Heh).

Then there's Gertrude Gleehorse who is so light-footed when she trips down the hall she leaves holes in the floor.

Of course, we can't forget Cookie Tishbaum who weighs 48 lbs. with her new fur coat on and floats those French pastries around when I'm on my 3,000th calorie for the day.

We mustn't ignore Betsy Brainball who knits and plays bridge 30 hours out of the 24 and walks off with a 3 point at the end of the semester. She's the type we all admire but could choke.

Last but not least (curses!) is my doting room-mate. You know the type who leaves her shoes in the middle of the floor that I never fail to hit at 6:45 a. m. and who chews gum like a cow. I'm seriously thinking of sending her name in to Borden's. For that crack my life isn't worth much anymore. Also she's madly in love with Edison and leaves ALL the lights on ALL the time. Everybody keeps telling me she's a good kid and I think so too when I ignore her 567 bad habits.

You've had a glimpse of the many, but after all what would college life be without these gals to break down your morale.

"Bringin' Spring In" Climaxes Union Drive

BY MARGUERITE SCHUMANN

Ushering in the season with a bang was "Bringin' Spring In," Lawrence college student variety show produced last Friday evening in Memorial chapel under the direction of Bob Nolan and Phyllis Ockene. The two hours worth of remarkably sprightly comedy and excellent musical acts provided a fitting climax to a campus fund for the Memorial union to be presented to the college by alumni in 1947.

A clever musical introduction to the show was provided by George McClellan, who sang his original title song, "Bringin' Spring In." Songs composed by Jay Main, ranked easily as high spots of the program. His "Our Serenade" was done by a girls' trio of Jeanne Willems, Carol Hirschinger and Mary Grimm; "Fantasy" by Winogene Kellom; "Forever Came Today" by Bob Nolan; and the composer himself sang his "I Ain't Gonna Touch a Drop No More."

Dancing acts were competently directed by Gloria Birmingham and Gloria Rogahn. Clever student written skits evoked enthusiastic response from the full house, and the Phi Kappa Tau band under the direction of Dutch Scholtz also took its share of honors. Original lyrics for several songs appearing in the artistically staged finale were written by Bill Chapman.

Policies of Russia and Unions are Paralleled

BY NANCY BUSHNELL

So much has been written recently about the tragic effects of the coal strike and the dangers of the portending railroad strike, that it almost seems that nothing new can be said. The same situation exists in regard to the failure of the Paris Conference of Foreign Ministers.

Nevertheless, a new angle was brought forth this week by Jack Ramey in the Cincinnati Enquirer in regard to both these subjects. Ramey draws a parallel between union leaders and Russia. This is an interesting argument and deserves some notice.

Ramey observes that union leaders can act entirely outside the law, because the law is not severe, and can get away with it. They sign a contract, then break it, while claiming management for failure to live up to the contract. Their books are not subject to audit and considerable personal enrichment is the result. Even if the government takes over the strike-bound industries, there is no assurance that the workers will return to their jobs. Men such as A. F. Whitney and John L. Lewis can dictate to the federal government because of their complete control of labor in vital industries.

Not only can these men paralyze industry, but they do John L. Lewis is interested, not in the miner, but in John L. Lewis, and he will go to any lengths to protect his interests. His selfish, egocentric desires have managed to prevent reconversion, and there is nothing to stop him, since labor monopolies are not regulated as are industrial monopolies.

Ramey goes on to say, "Just as there will not be real industrial peace in this country until every union leader is as responsible to law as are business men, there will not be real international peace until every nation, strong and weak, is responsible to law untinged by favor for the strong."

He proves this point by discussing Russian actions at Paris. No progress was made in treaty-making because Russia and Great Britain were afraid to let the other get the upper hand in the Balkans or the Mediterranean. Ramey places the chief blame on the Russians: "The treaties always are blocked by selfish, unilateral designs of one of the Big Four — it's been Russia most often so far — within the territory of the nation affected."

Mr. Ramey continues to draw the parallel between union leaders and Russia, and he argues well. There is considerable truth in his point of view. It has become increasingly obvious that both the union leaders and Russia are jeopardizing the welfare of the whole in the former case the nation, in the latter instance the world, for their own selfish interests.

Just how far the comparison can be drawn is a moot question, and it is wise to remember that big business is as guilty as labor in halting reconversion, and that the Western powers are as guilty as Russia in preventing peace from becoming a reality.

Please Find That Weeken

BY KAY ELWERS

The week-end wasn't happy for the drunken man, poor guy. The bottles all were empty, and his throat was very dry. And so he searched the closet, and tried the chandelier. But found no bottles anywhere, not even one of beer.

He tore the cupboard door apart and found the shelves were bare. Mother H. had been there first and swiped Virginia Dare. He pulled the covers from his bed and rent the sheets in twain. But all that did was fix it so he'd not sleep there again.

The china cabinet suffered next, with plates and spoons and cups. And then the kitchen stove, but still, not even Seven-up! The beetles now were chewing on the curtains made of silk. But in the frigidaire there wasn't even any milk.

And then the man was screaming, for he'd seen a bloody mouse. And bats and elephants were chasing

'Swing Yer Lady Round And Round'

In spite of the fact that everyone afflicted with hay fever will sneeze through exams, the Lawrentian staff has declared its recent barn dance one corny success.

The small gym was skillfully transformed into a veritable barn, including hay loft, scarecrow, and kerosene lanterns. The decoration committee, which, much to its sorrow, later turned out to be the cleanup committee, shouldered full responsibility, from hunting down a truck to haul in the baled hay (which was then left in the rain overnight), to looking for those huge "janitor" brooms to sweep away the debris at midnight Sunday.

Compliments to the food committee on its well-chosen supply of "vittles". The cider lasted through the evening, even if the guests didn't.

By this time you've probably guessed that the program was rather strenuous. Wheat Queen "B.J." Cairr thought she was safe on her throne away from the egg and sack races, until she learned that she had to clean up all broken eggs. The races were judged "fairly 'n squarely" by Corn King "Jackie" Karger.

After prizes of lollipops and carrots were handed out, the farmhands were sent out into the mud on a treasure hunt, which took them from the ice-box in the Phi Delt basement to the sewer behind Smith House.

The smooth dancing later in the evening was welcomed by all as a glad respite from the exhausting Virginia Reel and other square dances. After much coaxing at eleven, the farmhands had to leave because of early milking in the morning, and the Kleanup Kids could begin to wield their brushes.

After deciding to make this affair an annual one, the Lawrentian Staff has only one question to ask—does anyone want any hay?

Lawrentians $1,400 Short of Union Goal

Lawrence college students, as of May 22, have contributed only $678.57 to the Memorial Student Union drive. The goal set by the executive committee was $2,000.

Any student who has not as yet contributed, and who wishes to do so, should turn in his donation to his respective collector or should take it to the business office.

him around the house. But luck was with him, and the ghostly chase was soon out short. For he stumbled, fell, and seized upon a still unopened quart.

He held it in his trembling hands: it was his all in all. He didn't know the bottle held denatured alcohol. He raised it to his lips, and then he drank it, every drop. And there's a cure for drinking, for it's sure to make you stop.

Time For Exam Blues To Start

The end of May draws near, and once again a prayerful hush falls over the campus. Worried students are again wearing their eyebrows in question marks, a mannerism peculiar to exam week. Why exams must come as an aftermath of spring is the question repeatedly raised, as if coping with the charms of the season and just the normal amount of book work weren't enough.

But the prospective demands of exam week are driving many frustrated students to distraction, as well as local spots of interest. Others abstaining from this escapist attitude are getting hope and encouragement — or just plain fortitude — from a stolid belief in fate or some theoretical new brain food.

The grim situation is fast reaching its highest peak of intensity. Anticipation of what is to come has provoked the following sage comments on the examination crisis:

Jennie Kehrb—"I look forward to the time when O.P.A. puts a floor on grades."

Sally Wood—"What we need is more time out."

Bill Hinz—"I'm just going to blow my top."

Jim Campbell—"In times of fuel shortages, it should be unlawful to burn the midnight oil."

Gail Whitaker—"Niggers all work on the Mississippi. . . ."

a member of Alpha Chi Omega and of the Spanish club.

Elaine Wilmoth will serve as assistant business manager and Doris Treviranus will again serve as circulation manager for next year. Betty Robertson will act as typist.

Applicants were selected by the Lawrentian Board of Control which consists of Mr. Watts, Mr. Du Shane, Larry Storms, president of the student body, Jean Derus, present editor of the Lawrentian, and Bob Wilson, present business manager.

Other than salaried positions are selected by the present editor and next year's editor. Those applicants selected were Phyllis Leverenz and Bill Sandeen, co-issue editors; Georgia Lipke, make-up editor; Fritz Heineman, feature editor; Jean Van Hengel and Bill Karger, student editors; Marilyn Larson, administration editor; "Dutch" Bergman, sports editor; Dick Furuno, music editor; Pat Drennan, art editor; Betty Kieffer, drama editor; Jane Bielefeld, girls' sport editor; and Gloria Gronholm, cartoonist.

Several changes were made by the board in its meeting Tuesday afternoon. It was decided that editors and their staffs will be chosen at the mid-semester of the second term beginning next year. The board also dropped the positions of co-issue editors and make-up editor from the salary status in order to attract applicants who are primarily interested in working up to the position of editor-in-chief.

Present salaries are as follows: editor-in-chief, $200; business manager, $200; managing editor, $150 which was formerly $100; copy editor which was formerly an unpaid position, $75; assistant business manager was increased from $35 to $70; typists will receive $50; and circulation manager will get $30 instead of the present $12.

WSSF Drive Nets 601.48 Dollars

The final results of the recent campus WSSF drive were announced this week by the WSSF committee. According to the announcement, a check for $601.48 is being sent to the student relief fund to be used in aiding students and professors of Europe and Asia.

At the suggestion of several faculty members, it will be requested that at least $100 of the total sum be sent to Athens College in Greece, an institution especially hard hit by the war.

Although $601.48 does not reach the quota originally set, it is much higher than seemed likely during the early stages of the drive. The committee wishes to thank all those who helped carry on the drive and all students, faculty and administration members and organizations whose contributions made up the total collection.

Miss Vincent Discusses Marriage

For its final program of the year Pan Hellenic council presented Miss Vincent, social hygienist from the Merrill Palmer school in Detroit, Michigan, last Monday evening at Peabody hall.

Miss Vincent stressed the choosing of a proper mate for marriage. She said that "marriage is a working partnership, based on enduring love, between two persons, lasting for a lifetime."

A marriageable person is one who is emotionally and physically grown up, one who can earn a living and shoulder responsibility, one who has self-control.

The speaker warned against marrying as a means of escape or change, for "marriage is not an answer for personal unhappiness."

In order to be partner to a successful marriage, a person must have the capacity of love which is deep and enduring. The interests of the couple must be similar and their ideas and ideals compatible. Statistics show that to know your future mate for six months before becoming engaged and then to remain engaged from six months to a year is the best insurance of a happy marriage.

Two-Man Show To be Presented By Dietrich, Lopez

Mr. Thomas Dietrich and Mr. Carlos Lopez will present a two-man show in July at the Union Gallery at the University of Wisconsin. Mr. Lopez was born in Cuba and has studied and taught art in America. He will be the guest teacher and painter at the University of Wisconsin for the summer. He is listed in Who's Who in American Artists. Mr. Dietrich will also be listed in the 1946 issue. Mr. Dietrich is entering twenty watercolors in the Union Gallery show.

Recently Mr. Dietrich gave a demonstration for the Art Guild of watercolor painting done from a sketch of the condenser. He showed how compositions are improved by selecting and arranging material. Emphasis was placed on how to get a sense of space into a picture. He has been doing outdoor demonstrations for the various art classes.

1945-46 Ariel Will be Distributed June 1

The first peace-time issue of the Ariel in four years will be released from the printers on May 29 and Lawrentians can expect to have the issue in their hands by June 1, it was announced this week by Betty Thompson and Lois Hartmann, co-editors of the 1945-46 Ariel.

The keynote of this year's Ariel will be informality. The book will be much more elaborate and twice as big as the 1944-45 edition. The editors regret, however, that because of printing strikes and the war-time conditions that still prevailed, it was impossible for them to have as many pictures as the pre-war editions contained.

Betty Thompson and Lois Hartmann are the co-editors; Jean Derus, copy editor; Shirley Buesing and Betty Hoffman, girls sports editors; Dutch Bergman, men's sports editor; Nona Wild, typist; Dorothy Perschbacher and Charles Hanford, photographers.

Art Denney and his Lawrence track team very successfully defended their Midwest conference cinder championship last Saturday at Ripon. Scoring six firsts and heavily in the place positions, the Vikings amassed a total of 57½ points, 22½ more than second place Ripon. The team grabbed at least a point in every event but the two mile, century, and the javelin throw.

While the track team was busy grabbing circuit honors in their specialty, Coach Bernie Heslton and the golf team were out-shooting all conference rivals at the Ripon golf club to make it two championships in one day. The link squad had an aggregate total of 632 shots for 144 holes with Dick Flicker taking medal honor. Knox college was second and Coe third in the golf championships.

The trackmen turned in their finest times and distances of the season as they ran away with circuit honors. Dick Flom came within one-tenth of a second of the school quarter mile record as he topped a field of thirteen entries in 51.6 seconds. Dick ran fourth in the 220 and anchored the mile relay team to round out his afternoon's work.

Vikes to Enter Annual Beloit Relay Carnival

Twenty Colleges to Be Represented in Colorful Revival

Coach Denney will take his championship track and field squad to Beloit tomorrow for the annual Beloit Relay Carnival. The meet, which has been a wartime casualty for the past three seasons will have a colorful revival tomorrow as athletes representing twenty colleges converge on Beloit. Special individual events will be held in the afternoon, and the relay races at night.

At this time Lawrence relay entries include teams in the 440, 880, mile, and sprint medley events, with a possible entry in the distance medley. The Vikes will definitely not enter a quartet in the two mile relay.

George VanderWeyden will team with Larry Clark in both the individual hurdle events tomorrow afternoon and Clift will work with Larry in the broad jump. Clift and Nelson will team up in the individual pole vault and Nelson and Moriarty will work on the discus, as they did in the conference meet.

Individual Lawrence entries will be rounded out by Brebner and Foster in the high jump, and Brebner and Frailing.

At the present time Wheaton college, Wheaton, Illinois, and Iowa State Teachers college, Cedar Falls, Iowa, look like the teams to beat.

Wheaton is coached by Glenn Dodds, holder of the world indoor competitive mile record of 4:06.4.

Golf and Tennis Teams

End Season Tomorrow

The golf and tennis teams will wind up their 1946 activities tomorrow here in Appleton with quad-rangular meets with Ripon, Beloit and Carroll. The contests are a revival of the pre-war state college meet which was an annual affair.

Coach Heslton's golfers are favored to keep their slate clear in eighteen holes of medal play but the tennis team should encounter tough opposition from Beloit and Ripon.

GOODBYE MAC!

Miss Barbara MacKay, head of the women's physical education department and more familiarly known as "Mac" is teaching her last classes at Lawrence. After July 6 Mac will be a married woman.

Mac's admirers have been legion and her contributions to Lawrence have been many. It is she who inspired the girl who always "just hated gym" to devote a liking for it; it is she who made WAA the well-functioning and influential organization it is; it is she who, in her capacity as Peabody house mother, made Freshmen girls "feel at home," we've been glad to have you with us, Mac and wish you good luck.

Pi Phi's Place First In Archery, Swim Meets; DG's Second

In the archery inter-class and inter-sorority tournament last Saturday, the Pi Phi placed first with Elaine Wilmoth bringing home the honors. Nancy Stillman shot the arrow for second place for Delta Gamma, and Joan Ladwig, Theta, was third. The girls shot twelve rounds at thirty-two yards, and the top eight scores were sent to the telegraphic meet at Ripon.

The swimming meet last Wednesday night was also a close battle with the Pi Phi placing first by one point, followed by the Delta Gammas and Thetas.

The Midwest track championships held at Ripon last Saturday after a three year wartime lapse were a real success in every way, especially from a Lawrence point of view. The times and distances recorded compare very favorably with those produced in any college meet held in the Midwest this season and far exceeded pre-meet predictions.

Coach Denney was a little uncertain as to Vike championship chances after the morning preliminary heats had been run. Only three Lawrence men qualified in the hurdle and dash events. His uncertainty was later relieved. . . . Charlie Hamity and Dick Frailing turned in their best performances of the current season in the mile and half mile at Ripon. Charlie covered the longer distance in 4:38, while Dick won the half mile in 2:05. . . . Bob Brebner, who tied for first in the high jump at 5 feet 10 inches with Jack Foster, nearly missed 5 feet 6 inches on his third jump at that height. He hit the bar and turned it over, but it didn't drop.

George VanderWeyden's :25.3 second performance in the low timer event was his best time in competition this year, as was Bob Brebner's 41 feet 5½ inches effort with the shot.

The Vike mile relay team composed of George Steed, George VanderWeyden, Larry Clark and Dick Flom will be shooting for the school record in that event at the Beloit relays tomorrow. The present 1:31.5 standard was established in 1938. At Ripon, the boys were 2.3 seconds off the record when they won the event by nine yards from Cornell college.

The mile, half mile, and sprint medley relays should be the best contests for Lawrence tomorrow at Beloit.

The University of Illinois has come up with one of the finest track and field squads in Western Conference history this year. The team, built around three negro sprint and hurdle artists is a hands down favorite in the Big Ten and NCAA meets which will be held a few weeks hence.

Some of the times and distances made this season by Illini athletes include a :46.7 quarter mile (3-10 seconds off the world record) by Herb McKenley, a :20.8 furlong also by McKenley, a :09.7 century by Bill Mathes and a :23.2 second low hurdle performance by George Walker. The Illini mile relay team has been clocked in 3:18.2, the half mile quartet has turned in a 1:26 plus performance and Dike Eddleman has high jumped 6 feet 5½ inches.
